It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

SARSAPARILLIAN,

A NEW PRINCIPLE DISCOVERED.
R. R. R.
RENOVATING RESOLVENT
CONTAINS SARSAPARILLIAN, THE ACTIVE PRINCIPLE OF SARSAPARILLA!

DR. RADWAY HAS RECENTLY DISCOVERED A new process for obtaining the extractive substances of medicinal roots, barks, plants, &c., whereby only the pure and active properties are obtained, from which RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT, READY RELIEF, AND REGULATING PILLS are prepared.

A GREAT SENSATION! A GOOD SENSATION!

PAIN CURED IN AN INSTANT.

In 1847, the great grand principle of stopping the most excruciating pain in an instant, without employing such dangerous agents as Chloroform, Opium, Morphine, Aconite, Ether, &c., was first made known in

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

This remedy accomplished this wonderful desiratum in all cases of external and internal pain In an instant it afforded relief; the moment it was applied to the parts of the body where inflammation or pain existed, it at once relieved the patient of the most violent and excruciating pangs and throbs of pain, and imparted the delightful sensation of ease and comfort.

Every kind of pain, whether Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Influenza, Sore Throat, Nervous Headache, Toothache, Pains in the Chest, Side, Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Spine, Legs, Arms, Feet, one application was sufficient to cure and exterminate the pain.

Taken internally, 20 drops to a teasponful would cure, and will cure. Fever, and Ague, Chills and Fever, Bilious Colic, Inflamation of the Bowels, Cramps, Spasms, Diarrhea, Dysentery, and every pain that may exist in the inside a man, woman, or child. This was Radway's Ready Relief of 1867, and it is Radway's Ready Relief, greatly improved, in 1868.

We then started it in its mission of relieving the infirm, pain-stricken, sick, distressed, and crippled of all nations throughout the world, and now to-day it is used, patronized, and reserved as a household necessity in the places of Sultans, Emperors, Kaimos, Kings, High Priests, Nobles, as well as in the cottages of the laboring classes of very nation on the face of the earth.

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS.

GENERAL MEETING.

On Monday, pursuant to notice, a general meeting of all those concerned in the removal of the Protestant Cemetery was held at the vestry of the English Church to consider the proposition of H.E. the Governor of Buenos Ayres.

We noticed the following gentlemen present:—

F. Parish, Esq., H.B.M.'s Consul; Judge Hollister, U.S. Consul; N Nordenboltz, German Consul; Rev. J. Chubb Ford, English Chaplain; Messrs. J. H. Green, Tucker, Dr. Alston, Drysdale, Wilson, M'Clymont, Williamson, M'Ilroy, H. A. Green, Walker, Wanklyn, Thompson, Anderson, Twyford, Underwood, Stanfield, Ramsay, Neild, H. W. Smith, Plowes, Buttner, &c., &c.

[Rev. J. Smith, Scotch Chaplain, was unavoidably absent, having been called to the country.

Mr. J. H. Green opened the proceedings by moving that Mr. Frank Parish take the chair.

Mr. Parish suggested that probably it would be better to name some other party, for various reasons, owing chiefly to the prominent part he had already taken in the matter.

Mr. Thompson moved Mr. Plowes to the chair.

Mr. Plowes, on taking the chair, stated that the object of the present meeting was to consider the question of closing of the British Cemetery and the offer of the Governor. The Committee named had done all in its power in the matter; they had resisted the Municipal edict, and the little communication which had been had on the matter amounted to two or three letters—but, finding their efforts ineffectual, they had placed the matter in the hands of the Consuls, who were equally unsuccessful in their efforts. The subject was then placed in the hands of the Ministers. Why the Ministers have not been able to settle the question it is difficult to say, but they sent the matter back to the Consuls. Mr. Parish had done his best to arrive at a solution of the difficulty, and Governor Castro had evinced a strong desire to settle the question. So the matter stands—and Mr. Parish will confer a favor by stating to the meeting what he knows respecting the question.

Mr. Frank Parish—Gentlemen, so far back as last April the Municipality passed a resolution ordering the Protestant Cemetery to be closed within six months. We were then emerging from the awful period of the cholera, and we all felt that it would be imprudent to say anything about the matter—we even thought it would be unjust to try and get the Municipality at that moment to alter their vote. The decree was passed without, I may say, a discussion—the general opinion, however, being that the order would never be carried out. Nevertheless, there was a Committee named to attend to the matter. We were all more or less convinced that sooner or later we should have to look for ground, and, in fact, the removal of the Cemetery was, I may say, contemplated before the Municipality meddled in the matter. There is a very serious difficulty in finding ground; none more so than the Committee are aware of this. In fact, it seemed impossible to find ground with a good road suitable The Committee had hinted that ground could be had near the Southern Cemetery; but he believed that ground thereabouts was altogether out of the question. Meanwhile the Municipality insisted on the closing of the Cemetery. It would seem as if that Board would listen to nothing contrary to its own views; there was nothing left, therefore, save an appeal to the Governor, who admitted that his interference could merely be regarded as officious, as he could not interfere with the Municipal body. Recourse was then had to the Ministers, who, on applying to the National Government, were informed that the Provincial Government was already in treaty to settle the matter with the Municipality—and, therefore, the question was sent back to them by the Ministers. The Governor had gone so far as to suspend the order of the Municipality closing the Cemetery. We have showed every disposition to meet the views of the Municipality in this regard. The Governor, who has always displayed the greatest liberality in the business, had a long interview with the members of the Municipality, but it seemed fixed that the Cemetery must be closed. Governor Castro had observed that it was the desire of his Government that there should be one common cemetery for all, where members of every religion should be buried; that, as regards the treaty and its rights, the days had gone by, when special provisions for such things were necessary. Nowadays, whatever distinction there might be among the living, there was none among the dead. I, for my part, fully concur with the Governor in his highly liberal views in this regard, and I am glad to see such liberal notions; but nevertheless, the proposal of the Governor ought to be very carefully considered. There are many verious differences to control, religious sentiments have to be consulted, and furthermore, we require some guarantee as to our rights to the new ground; we must have the exclusive care, management, and supervision of it I suppose that there can be no objection to our all entering the same gate; it is necessary to consult on many matters, even supposing that we agree to the Governor's proposal. There are questions interesting to all, arising out of the proposed removal which must be discussed, even supposing that by the new arrangement we have the same rights, the same securities still, perhaps it would be desirable to have a subdivision wall. Nowadays in England and the United States cemeteries are in common; there are no religious objections as to burial, promiscuous burial is now a general thing, and if we can obtain a free and independent administration of the ground allotted to us, I very much question if we can ask more; the great object for us should be to obtain good grounds and with a convenient road leading to them, There is a very serious difficulty always for us in getting the ground, whereas, if we take part of the Government Cemetery, it is secured to us by the Government. These are my views on the subject, formed after thoroughly and maturely investigating the question. Of course there are many matters in detail, such as the right to bury in vaults, parties holding vaults must be indemified; all this can be done however and satisfactorily arranged, as I view the subject.

Mr. Green thought it would be more to the point if a distinct understanding was come to respecting those who have vaults, why should such parties not be permitted to go on burying in their vaults, the same as in other large cities where Cemeteries are closed.

Mr. Parish thought proper to call the attention of the meeting to the fact that the closing of the British Cemetery was not ordered on sanitary grounds—nothing of the kind, but it is alleged that the city is growing too much to have a Cemetery in our midst; that the British Cemetery stops the growth of the town in that district. If we could regard our lease of the present Cemetery good for the next ten or fifteen years, why then we might consider that the question was worth fighting for, and we could take the Municipality before the Courts, But such is not the case, and the question therefore is, had we not better make as much as we can out of the Government offer, which indeed seemed most liberal?

Mr. H. A. Green—Mr. Chairman, I wish to know, do we, or do we not, get title-deeds for the new grounds? It is highly important that we should know how we stand.

Mr. Parish—I believe that it is proposed the Municipality buy a large piece of ground for a Public Cemetery, of which it is proposed to give us a portion, and even with separate entrance. Furthermore, to compensate us for shutting our Cemetery, the Government proposes to build us a chapel and sexton's house. There will be no division wall, however, between us—but there may be a road, or a path, or a hedge for a division; this will be no bar to parties being buried in whatever part they may wish.

Mr. Plowes supposed that if it was the wish of those interested there would be no objection to building a division wall, but, of course, at our own expense.

Mr. Green—The real object in our buying land is to be able to call it our own. We might have our ground outside the General Cemetery. It is, however, decidedly better for us to purchase the ground; we then know our rights. As for the division, it seemed that an iron railing or a good hedge would be sufficient for all purposes.

Rev Mr Ford considered that a hedge or a neat walk would be sufficient division.

Mr Parish hoped that Mr Hollister, U.S. Consul, would inform the meeting of the views of American citizens regarding the question.

Judge Hollister—Gentlemen, two meetings have been held by us to consider this matter, the first by those who worship in what is technically called the American Church, the second by American citizens only. At the meeting at the American church, it was unanimously agreed to reject the proposition of indiscriminate burial, that is to say the interment of Catholic and Protestant side by side: all the points were then discussed, and gone into minutely. Mr Parish may recollect that the committee thought it expedient to obtain the opinion of the various congregations, and, as far as our congregation is concerned, that is their final decision. It was even urged that indiscriminate burial would cause no expense, yet the project was rejected unanimously. At the second meeting, the question as to treaty right was more fully discussed, and there was an evident disposition for a separate burial ground. It was agreed that our rights could not be in the least disturbed by any vote of the Municipality. It was considered that it would be better to have grounds apart, and not to consent to indiscriminate burial. Separate grounds seemed to be the desire of all, with entire control and complete supervision; in fact in every sense of the word full rights. The Government seems to me to be imbued with the most liberal views in this regard. Somehow or other, however, there appears to have been ever a misunderstanding in the matter, therefore at that meeting a committee was appointed to act with Germans and English, and to get from the Government more definite proposals. As yet that committee has done nothing—yet as to the question of Catholic and Protestant burying in common, it may, as far as we are concerned, be regarded as rejected unanimously. It may not be essential to have separate grounds, but the grounds must be divided. A wall might be the proper thing and the title to the grounds must be in perpetuity, and the Government guarantee same as regards our rights—they are by treaty, and cannot be disturbed. The Provincial and National Governments had evinced the most liberal views, and our committee seems to harmonise with Mr Parish in his views on the question.

Mr Stanfield—Gentlemen, I believe it every way desirable that the public should be acquainted with the fact that our objection to the proposal of common or public burial proceeds less from religious motives than that our burial ground should ever be in such a state as the Recoleta is at present. Protestants have no religious objections to be buried with Catholics; we can all lie side by side in the grave, and the proposal of the Governor is most liberal in the extreme, but the meetings and discussions on this subject might lead to a misunderstaning, if not properly explained. The sole reason why we wish to have our cemetery apart is because we are unwilling to leave the grounds for our dead to the care of the municipality. The present disgraceful state of the Recoleta proves to us how municipalities care cemeteries, therefore we ask for grounds apart, and to have the sole and exclusive management and care of same.

Judge Hollister—We Americans are like Abraham and Lot. We say you take the right and we take the left, or you take the left and we take the right. Our spirit is a spirit of accommodation.

Mr J. H. Green—After listening to all that Mr Hollister had said confirming 'in toto' the views of Mr Parish he begged to propose the following resolution:

"That the Protestant community accepts the principle which the local authorities desire to have adopted of a common burial ground; but that for reasons which they deem imperative, the committee be instructed to treat with the authorities for the purchase in perpetuity, if not less than two squares in such common burial ground which shall be under the sole management and control of the committee or committees of the Protestant community, and that there shall be also a separate entrance. That in compensation for closing the present cemetery, the authorities build a chapel and sexton's house on the ground purchased by the Protestant community."

Mr. Drysdale seconded the motion.

Mr. Anderson—I object to the resolution, inasmuch as the proposed new grounds, one square, would be altogether too small. Gentlemen, we require at least eight squares for a Protestant Cemetery, and bear in mind I speak from some experience. If there is any man in Buenos Ayres who knows the requirements of the Protestant public, I do; at least eight squares should be the size of the new ground.

Mr. Green regarded Mr. Anderson's suggestions preposterous in the extreme; eight squares for a Cemetery in any convenient place near town is utterly out of the question.

Mr. Parish differed from Mr. Anderson as to the extent of ground necessary; he had some acquaintance with the difficulties attending the purchase of ground, having been commissioned so far back as in the time of Messrs. Casares and Drabble, to be on the look out for ground; but he could find nothing, and he had no hesitation in declaring it impossible to obtain such a piece of ground as Mr. Anderson suggested. Even respecting the Southern Cemetery there is a cloud; a lawyer whose quinta adjoins, pushes the question to its utmost, and declares if necessary he will eventually exhume the bodies, so as to get rid of this mortuary nuisance. Our Cemetery has existed now for nearly forty years, and may be regarded as an honor to our community.

Mr. Williamson—I suggest, gentlemen, that two squares will be amply sufficient for the new Protestant Cemetery.

Mr. Plowes stated as the Governor talked of $50,000 mje per square, probably it would be desirable to secure two squares at such a rate, as only the Municipality or Government could obtain suitable grounds at that price; private parties would have to pay much more. Mr. Plowes then put the resolution from the Chair, which was unanimously carried.

Mr. Wanklyn wanted to know what was meant by the term common ground did it signify indescriminate burial.

Mr. H. A. Green rose and said that he considered we should be all very careful how we disturbed a treaty rights; all parties, both English, American and German are of accord that the present Cemetery be held sacred, and we must be on our guard not to surrender one iota of our rights. The question before us is of the most serious importance, and merits the calmest consideration.

Mr. Ramsay fully indorsed Mr Green's sentiments which he had no hesitation in saying were the most sensible as yet offered at that meeting Our treaty rights should under no possible circumstance be trifled with We are willing to do what is right in the matter, but at all hazards our treaty rights must be maintained. Why not carry the question before the Courts, and have a decision on the point? if we lose we are no worse, if we gain we are much better.

Mr. J. H. Green suggested that it was impolitic to, in the least manner throw any doubts on our rights under the treaty.

Mr. Neild—The road to the new grounds is, to me, gentlemen, a very important point. Suppose they give us grounds the only access being through a pantano—the locality must be looked to and we should have a good road to the Cemetery.

Mr. H. Wyatt Smith considered that as we would be alongside the Public Cemetery, there could be little question as to the road, since the Municipality itself would be obliged to keep a good road at its own cost.

Mr. H. A. Green proposed the second resolution:—

"That the Committee be instructed to report to a second general meeting the result of their treating with the local authorities before concluding the final arrangements."

Mr. M'Ilroy seconded the motion.

It was then put from the chair and carried nem. con.

Mr. Plowes—As the Governor has intimated his wish to know the result of this meeting, it might be desirable that the Committee adjourn to the Government House. The following gentlemen compose the Committee:—

Messrs. Parish, Hollister, Nordenholtz, Buttner, Jacobs, and Plowes.

Mr. Wanklyn proposed that the Committees, in their interviews with the Governor be waited on by the Consuls.

Mr. Williamson seconded the motion.

Put and carried.

A vote of thanks to the chair having been moved by Dr. Alston and seconded by Mr. Nield,

The meeting then adjourned, sine die.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Proveedor arrived yesterday from Paraguay, having made the round trip in ten days. We believe this is probably the quickest trip on record. As Mr. Craufurd did not return in her, it is probable that he has gone up to Ita or Itagua, or Cerro Leon, to have a look at the country. We have received an interesting letter from him, which we hold over till to-morrow.

On Sunday evening there was a railway row at Belgrano, probably the most serious ever known in this country. The four o'clock train from the Tigre was detained at Belgrano, owing to an accident which occurred to the engine. The late train from the Tigre subsequently came up, and both trains were detained until so late an hour that the passengers did not arrive in town until eleven o'clock, p.m. Meanwhile the greatest disorders took place at Belgrano. The passengers got furious at the delay, and we much regret to say that, led on by one or two parties, they pitched into the windows and seats, smashing up everything. There was even an attempt made to fire the ceiling of the station, which luckily failed. We cannot too strongly condemn this lawless conduct, which has resulted in such serious loss to the company. No matter what may be the shortcomings of the administration, or the delays caused by accidents, there can be no justification for such a wilful destruction of property. Some few Englishmen who tried to calm the row, very narrowly escaped being roughly handled. In fact, the matter is so serious, we are glad to hear that yesterday it was laid before the Governor.

The National College examinations we hear have been very successful this year. The founding of these schools was an excellent idea, for they are destined to turn out men that must play an important part in the reforms which Argentine Society must undergo at no distant period. His Excellency the President is well aware of this, and must be particularly solicitous about their proper working. The establishment in this city, is now on a footing to be compared with almost any similar institution in Europe. The only drawback it has, is want of space, but we are told H. E. Dr. Avellaneda, who does not lack zeal in a noble cause, purposes carrying out the idea of building an amphitheatre which will serve the purpose of a public lecture room. We hear some encroachments have been made on the Financial interests of this institution, if such be the case, we hope the worthy Minister will see justice done at the earliest opportunity. We have no space to enumerate like some of our colleagues the class lists, we shall simply mention the names of Tamini, Balestra, Harvey, Heredia, Torres, and Bermejo, as being the most remarkable and successful students.

We are glad to say that the different parish committees have commenced making their domiciliary visits, and that there is every probability that the tenement houses, &c., will be at once cleansed of all perilous stuff. The Pilar Committee has resigned 'en masse,' in consequence of the arbitrary exercise of authority by the commissary, who fined and imprisoned a man without the slightest right or justification. The committee, composed of Mr Wilson, Mr Cabral, and others, waited on the Chief of Police, demanded the man's instant liberation, and then resigned. We caution our readers against some of the commisarios.

The municipality may now be regarded as completely done up. Some seven or eight of the oldest members have been obliged to leave the board room, their time having expired.—Query, should not we raise a monument of kerosene cans, rags, &c., to those retiring officers of public filth and public neglect?

Mr James Black and several others left per Dolorcitus on Sunday for Gualeguay Mr Black has the finest estancia in the whole of Entre Rios—the establishment being well managed pays well. All the wool and sheepskins of the place are baled at the estancia and shipped direct to Europe.

We are happy to inform our readers that the National Government has determined to take a census of the Republic. This is a very important measure and well worthy the attention of the able administration of Sarmiento. No one knows better than we the difficulties in acquiring any statistics of the country, but the census if properly carried out, as we do not doubt it will be, cannot but be the basis on which many important measures and reforms will be ultimately founded.

To connoiseurs of French, Spanish, Rhine, Oporto, and Hungarian wines, also cognacs, ale, porter, &c., we would recommend a visit to that new and go-ahead firm of Henderson & Murdock, 69 Calle Belgrano, nearly opposite our office.

After much pressing on the part of the honorable Board of Directors of the South Plaza, Don Julian Gandara has at length consented to assume the erduous post of Judge of South Market, made vacant by the resignation of Don Emiterio de la Llave. Sr. Llave was the first appointed to the new post created by Government two years ago. During that long period he has never been absent from his post, and in the discharge of his most difficult duties Mr. Llave had given universal satisfaction, that public feeling might have found vent in endeavouring to secure a continuance of his valuable services, had he not met so worthy a successor in the person of a young man, whose character, family, and experience will, let us hope, make up for any lack in years. Mr. Gandara has travelled much in Europe.

The grandest fancy ball of the season will come off on next Monday evening. Most of our fashionable world have been politely presented with tickets, by the committee, who have spared no pains to make it most brilliant and select.

In consequence of the unwarrantable interference of the Comisario of the District, the active health committee for the Parish of Pila, formed of some of our most respected native and foreign citizens, have resigned, It appears that in making their rounds, the intelligent commissioners came on some places, which though used for uncleanly trades were not considered by them in such a state as to threaten public health. Amongst the rest was a livery stable close to the Comisario's headquarters, which for its cleanliness in comparison with similar establishments had merited the Inspector's satisfaction, notwithstanding however, they had so expressed themselves, they next day found the proprietor fined by his officious neighbor, who under the pretext of public weal had taken occasion to vent himself for some private pique. The commissions having very properly represented the case in its true light to the board, resigned 'en masse.'

In answer to Professor Tobal's long and able article in the 'America,' on the circumstances which threatened the dissolution of the Buenos Ayres Pharmaceutical Society, we are happy to say all difficulties have been removed and chemically precipitated, and the excess of gas (carbonic acid) converted into health-giving oxygen by the appointment of our distinguished cousin and chemist, Mr. William Cranwell, Rivadavia-street, to the presidency of the society. We allow Mr Tobal's remarks on the question to be opportune and correct; but now that we have the right man in the right place, we don't fancy such misunderstandings will ever again take place. We congratulate our distinguished relative on the honour conferred him, and hope to see the society under his presidency hold in the scientific world that position which one day or other it is destined to.

The masque balls have been hitherto very tame, especially those of the Alcazar, which were expected to surpass all that we have yet witnessed in Buenos Ayres. Of the two balls lately given, the latter went off quietly enough; but in the former, we are told, some countrymen, for want of better employment and more exciting amusement, showed strong tendencies to athletic sports and the ring. Luckily the little 'tours de force' and sparring which took place were not unlike Mr. Philip's soda water, mild yet refreshing. The balls given at the Argentine Theatre have been a little better, but we have not yet seen the enthusiasm of last year. Perhaps the most amusing incident yet witnessed was the presence in one of these balls of a troupilla of gauchos, who squatted down and took their mattés.

We have received from an American subscriber the following:—

I enclose an extract from a letter of a gentlemen who formerly held the highest judicial positions in one of the United States, and whose calm judgment and entire freedom from political partiality for Mr. Washburn—the writer being a democrat and Washburn a republican—entitle his opinions to the highest respect. As your paper has always evinced a desire to do Mr. Washburn justice, I send it to you for publication:

"I have often thought of you when reading of the exciting scenes taking place just above you on the river, especially Mr. Washburn's difficulty with Lopez. At first, Washburn was much censured for leaving as he did, but since the publication of Mr. Webb's letter vindicating him, I think the current is setting in his favour. No doubt, you are in a position to know every detail. It appears clear here that Lopez is a savage brute, and should be served as Napier served Theodore. Such men have no proper place on the face of the earth, and should be hunted down like wild beasts. My sympathies have been with him and his people for maintaining a long and gallant fight against great odds. Until some further explanation, we now seem willing to see that government wiped out. Surely the people would be better under any other rule than his."

By a mistake of our printers, we made it appear in our last issue that our worthy friend Mr. Bell had assumed the sacerdotal robes, when in reality, said gentleman has only procured the services of a Minister, to look after the spiritual wants of the English on his estancia, an example we should wish to see followed by all our estancieros.

The National Government has named Surgeon Wilde to the post of Surgeon of the Military Hospital. We congratulate our countrymen on the appointment.

The B. Ayres Cricket Club will entertain their Montevidean brethren at dinner in the Coliseum on Monday evening next. It is pleasing to see such good feeling exist between adversaries, and we shall endeavor to avail ourselves of the polite attention of the Committee. Meantime, we wish entire success to both parties.

EXPLORATION OF THE MAGELLAN STRAITS.

The Chilian war steamer Arauco, has just returned from the Straits, after having made some observations of high importance to navigation and commerce. The official despatch says—"I left on the 16th September, in the direction of Romas Arenas. Next day a fresh gale sprung up, S. W, accompanied by great waves; during the night the wind freshened, and the sea rose so that there was no standing on deck, the vessel labored very much the waves breaking over bulwarks and penetrating every part of the ship to the great fear and inconvenience of our scientific passengers. As the storm grew worse instead of abating I resolved to take the Messier Canal, for we were now within a few miles south of the Gulf of Renas, and close to the coast.

About 5 o'clock a. m., the weather improved somewhat and at 10 p.m., on the 19th, I anchored in the bay of Arauco, 25 miles up the Messier Canal on the Eastern bank. The place was so named by Captain Costa, in one of his voyages to the Straits in this vessel. The anchorage is none of the best by reason of its great depth and hard stoney bottom; nevertheless it is found very convenient when the Island harbour is crowded with ships. This latter port which Fitzroy, marks in his map is small but well sheltered, with mud bottom, and twenty arms depth of water. It is of much importance as a place of refuge or for repairing and provisioning vessels.

As Arauco has been omitted in the large maps and only very poorly described in the Charts. [South American Pilot], its access is not easy, for from outside its entrance seems dangerous, and the place very small. At its mouth are two Islands. The one lying to the East is connected by a stone causeway with the mainland, the other closes the mouth of the bay leaving two entrances, the Eastern which is described in the Charts, I do not consider so good as the Western—first because not so straight, second because of the lowness of both shores. The other is narrower but straight the least depth in the narrows is nine arms.

Anchored in the Punta Arenas on the evening of the 23rd. The following day we began to disembark; but we couldn't leave there until 2 p.m., next day in consequence of the troops, which we were to take, not being ready.

At dawn on the 20th, I left Arauco bay, and moved up to Harb bay, Lat. 49 deg. 28 min. 30sds. which anchorage is the best known from the mouth of the Canal to the narrows of Crooked Reach [Straits of Magellan.] The anchorage is of mud in eight arms of water, with an Island which divides the bay, on the left the entrance though narrow is clean and free from danger.

Passed on the 20th the English narrows: to the south of which H. B. M, Gunboat Nausau, lately discovered two sunken rocks covered by three feet of water. One is situated almost on the land as marked by the Charts, but a little to the west in front of an Island situated to the north of the mouth of the bay, and south of a rock already marked on the maps, the other is a little further west than given on the Charts.

On the 21st, I left Harb and moored to the South of the Island of Owan, in a bay without name, and situated in Lat. 51 deg. 24 min. Here the East coast is marked by a rock, which I sent off a boats crew to discover. A sailor named Bannen, was the first to find it, so I called the place after him. After a minute survey of the bay it was found that the bottom was all stone, at a depth of ten arms we anchored in the centre. This harbour must prove of great convenience to steamers passing the night in these waters, and not wishing to go far out of their way. It is well sheltered from the West, North, and East winds. The Chart says nothing of the Island of Owen.

Anchored on the evening of the 22nd Playa Parda, [Straits of Magellan] in this day's run we passed the Islands of Sumner and Ozer; about the worst part of the whole Canal. On my way out as on my return I followed as closely as possible the marked course, nevertheless on both occasions I found five and a half arms of water, instead of ten as marked on the Chart.

As I have said at 2 p.m., I left Punta Arenas, was under steam all night and at dawn found myself off Borja bay; here I sighted an Italian brig which made signals of distress. I made for the bay and the Captain lost no time in boarding me. She proved to be the 'Luisa and Rosa' Captain Purro, informed me that he had been forty days in the Straits, and hoped that I would tow him out to the ocean; acceeding to the petition I took him as far as Cape Tumar.

On the evening of the 3rd, I was obliged to come to, in a small inlet to the West of Newton Island for shelter, from a strong Nor-Wester which had driven the barometer down to 73deg. 50seconds.

H. B. M. corvette 'Columbine' visited here on a previous occasion, and the Chart called 'South American Pilot,' describes it with exactness.

Excellent morning, ten arms of water, mud bottom, and well sheltered on the N. E. The Charts give some Islands on the North of the bay near the coast but it is in reality a small continent covered with trees, which forms South side boundary of the 'Bad Bay,' commonly known as Shingle Road.

On the night of the 4th, I cast anchor off Harb Island, at twenty five miles from the Gulf of Renas, awaiting fair weather.

It is my belief Señor Comandante General, that with half a dozen of signals, placed at the dangerous points of the Canals, their navigation would be considerably facilitated, which would be a great short cut for the steamers. As you will perceive, in three days I went from the Colony to the Gulf of Difficulties, anchoring two nights, arriving at Harb Island at 5 p. m., and losing time in towing the brig 'Luisa and Rosa.'

ROMANTIC CASE AT DUNDEE.

A HUSBAND RESTORED TO HIS WIFE AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS' ABSENCE.

[From the Dundee Advertiser.]

Curious stories occasionally turn up in the Law Courts. The other day in a case heard before the Sheriff, it turned out that a husband, who was supposed to have been dead years ago had come to life again, and returned to his wife after an absence of nearly fifteen years. The matter in dispute has not yet been decided. The following narrative of the adventures of the husband during his long absence in foreign lands is more like a chapter of a sensation novel than a passage in real life. It is addressed to the legal agent employed in the case now pending before the court:—

"On August 14, 1853, I left Liverpool, as mate of the Sappho, for Montevideo and Buenos Ayres. A few days previous to my departure I received a letter from my mother-in-law, stating that my wife was very ill, and it was considered doubtful whether she would recover from her confinement. I answered this letter on the eve of my departure, telling my mother-in-law to write out to Buenos Ayres, and let me know how my wife was. This was the last letter I ever wrote to her, or any of my relations, since that time. We had a very disagreeable passage to Montevideo. I obtained my discharge at Buenos Ayres, and, not hearing from home, I concluded that my wife was dead; therefore I became reckless, and joined the Buenos Ayres steam sloop-of-war Coraeo [which was built in Dundee] as quarter-master, and shortly afterwards was promoted to admiral's coxswain, which situation I held until the Goverment reduced the pay to the peace establishment. I thought it time to leave and seek a more lucrative situation in some other part of the world. Therefore, I applied to the captain of the mail packet which plied between Buenos Ayres and Rio Janeiro to allow me to work my passage to Rio. After making some inquiries about me, he readily assented, and appointed me as acting quarter-master. On my arrival at Rio Janeiro, I went ashore to see some gentlemen that I was acquainted with through my being at Rio two voyages in the Red Rose, of Dundee, and catching the yellow fever there I was reported dead and buried, and my funeral expenses were sent in to Capt. Archibald to be paid. Some how or another I managed to come to life again, which caused some talk amongst the merchants and ship-chandlers, and I was offered the command of two different vessels; but Captain Archibald would not part with me, as he was afraid he might die, and the Red Rose would fall into the hands of a stranger. Therefore I remained mate with him. Through the above circumstances, I found friends in Rio, and I got appointed to a ship, the master of which was in the hospital, and nobody but labourers in the ship; and if the master died I was to have the command, but if he recovered I was to go as mate. After I got the vessel ready for sea, the master was able to leave the hospital, and we sailed for New Orleans. When we arrived at New Orleans I left, and shortly after shipped as mate in an American vessel bound to Boston and back to New Orleans. I then formed an acquaintance with a gentleman of the name of Dale, who was going to Lake Superior and Minnesota to stay some time with friends of his. He wished me to accompany him and enjoy the life of a backwoodsman as long as I wished to stay, which was nearly four years—but not all that time in one place, sometimes on the Lakes and sometimes on shore; but in the winter months I always remained on shore, and in the summer of '58 I came down to New Orleans, and through the assistance of friends, who lent me $2,000 in stock, I set up a book and variety store or shop. I did very well until the year 1861. The American war being in full force, books were of no use, but munitions of war and provisions were in great demand; and in March, 1862, I gave up the shop, returned stock to the amount I still owed, which was $200, and sold the rest by auction for what it would bring in Confederate money and city shinplasters, which soon became valueless, for the Federals occupied New Orleans in the month of April, and General Butler put an end to all Confederate notes by a proclamation. I then had to look around me and find some employment. I was ill several months, when I got on the police through the influence of a friend, and remained in the force for upwards of tow years. While in the police I became acquainted with a man of the name of Macintosh, belonging to Dundee, who informed me of the death of my father-in-law. He also told me that he had heard my wife and mother-in-law were dead also how long he could not inform me as he had been years absent from home. I now made sure, through not receiving any letters at Buenos Ayres, that my wife must have died while I was on my passage out from Liverpool. In January, 1865, I received a pass to leave New Orleans and go to Matamoras, in Mexico; but I had to get a person to stand bondsman in $1,000 that I would not join the Confederacy or give any information to the enemy. After remaining a month, I got command of a schooner bound to Havannah. From thence I went to Boston, where she was sold for debt. I then joined another vessel, and traded to Carlestou, South Carolina. After making several vogages I gave her up, the pay being too little for master I left B ston for New York, but, not finding anything to suit me, I went on to New Orleans where I worked ashore in an iron tie factory, until I got a good situation as a bookkeeper with acquaintadce, who was a carpenter and builder. I was only one week installed in my new occupation when my employer's were burned to the ground without saying anything. Neither was shop nor lumber insured—consequently I was thrown out of employment. A few weeks after this occurrence, in the latter part of October, 1867, while lying in bed one fine night I fancied I saw the form of a female figure approaching my bedside. I at first thought it was a thief, which made me grasp my revolver from under my pillow, where I always kept it at night ready for any emergency. Well, the form of a female stood by my bedside, and said, in a low voice, 'Robert, go to Dundee!' repeating the words twice. It seemed to glide towards the door, which was in the darkest part of the room, and vanished. The vision caused me great uneasiness; night and day it was never out of my mind, until I at last resolved to ship in some vessel and proceed to Dundee as soon as possible. In looking along the wharves or levee, as it's called there, I saw the Ardour, of Dundee, discharging cargo from Riga, and bound to Genoa. I made inquiries on bard if they wanted any hands, and founde that she wanted three. I offered myself to the captain telling him I belonged to Dundee. He engaged me at once. We left in Jan., 1868, and arrived in Great Britain.

ROBERT COCKERILL."

Nat. Bonds	54

Notwithstanding that the Government had declared this to be a holiday, the Bolsa was open as usual, and the transactions of the day were by no means under the average. The Provincial Bank remained closed during the day, but the other banks kept open. The bond market closed so firm on Monday evening at 54¾, buyers, that many supposed prices to day would touch 55, or perhaps higher, but one leading native broker trying to realise at present prices, weakened the market; although holding over 200,000, he sold but 60,000; it was too much however for the ring, and bonds fell instantaneously. One or two outsiders tried also to turn their bonds into money, but it could not be done, the market being too weak for the operation.

The news from Paraguay caused little attention: it was known that a meeting had been held in Asuncion by the few Paraguayans there for the purpose of forming a government, which resulted in nothing, and that a German had escaped from Lopez's camp with some startling information for the Allied Commander-in-Chief.—Forage keeps accumulating, and it is said that large sums of money are lost in this line. The Brazilians have occupied Luque, but the surrounding country is filled with Paraguayans, who cut off all stragglers. General Mitre has, in consequence of private information, despatched the force to liberate a number of families in the woods adjoining, but up to the leaving of the steamer nothing certain was known. Numerous stores of every description have been opened in Asuncion.

The non-arrival of the steamer Santiago has caused much anxiety, and there are great fears that she has met with some accident.

The steamer Laplace arrived today from Montevideo: her advices, commercial and political, are unimportant.

The steamer City of Limerick is now due at Montevideo. She brings the rails and other material for the Paso Molino tramway: the rest of the materials for this enterprise is on the way out. It is expected that the City of Limerick will sail from here on or about 17th inst.

The important tea auction at Gowland's this day realised fair prices.

Respecting the financial state of Montevideo there is much said, the Montevidean bank failure is regarded by those who are acquainted with the state of that market, as a very serious business and the Government despairing of the bank being able to reopen has passed to the Fiscal committee, the business of attending to the hume debt, there seems to have some foundation for the rumour of a National bank, and a project has been published in the Montevidean papers, nevertheless public opinion is so opposed to the measure, that it is improbable it will be attempted, a good deal of spare money belonging to parties in Montevideo, is seeking employment in Buenos Ayres, chiefly in real estate, the amortization of the home loan of Montevideo, was done at 47, and 48.

Mr. Sichell, a broker on the Bolsa, has returned from Paris and presented himself to the Government to answer any charges that can be brought against him respecting the fraudulent coupons.

The business doing at the saladeros in Barracas shows increasing activity and the average killing is 5,000 per day. Prices for stock are falling. This morning the corrales were filled. Messrs Silgas & Fernandez bought largely, at prices averaging from 190 to 160. The killing up the river also shows signs of improvement.

In the wool market there is increased animation; wools keep arriving fast, and one or two new English buyers are in the Plaza. The following sales were made in the Once.

SUMMER

"With all thy faults I love thee still."

Yes! 'tis true, we are in the midst of Summer charms, we have our merry Pic-nics under the umbrageous foliage of the weeping willow, or gliding pleasantly o'er the rippling wavelet, see happy children gambolling on the green sward replete with health and enjoyment, while the feathered songsters give forth the most beautiful music, and all is happiness on earth; but, no! Summer is not faultless, Heat, stifling, suffocating, Heat-sickening is Summer's bane, and we require something to counteract its evil influence

BAGLEY'S HESPERIDINA

TAKEN AS FOLLOWS:

Refined Sugar ..... One tablespoonful.
Bagley's Hesperidina Two do.
Ice..... One ounce.
Fresh water..... Half a glass.

Will, after being properly mixed, make a deliciously cool beverage, which will refresh the body and spirit, allaying thirst, and obviating the loss of strength caused by oppressive heat, which keeps the body in a permanent state of copious perspiration. This can, in a great measure, be prevented by the use of this excellent tonic and appetiser. 39,xpjy31

THE "GLYCERINE" DIP,

FOR SHEEP AND LAMBS,

FREE FROM ARSENIC, MERCURY, MINERAL AND OTHER POISONS DEADLY TO ALL PARASITES INFESTING THE SKINS OF SHEEP AND OTHER ANIMALS.

THIS PREPARATION is destined to supersede the Compounds hitherto Advertised, and which have a tendency to destroy Animals, injure the Men engaged in Dipping, and weaken the Wool by their caustic and reducing properties.

The "GLYCERINE" DIP can be used with perfect safety at any Season of the Year, and has been found in practice invaluable for the following purposes:—

I.—In Curing Scab, Killing Acari, Fags, Ticks, and other Parasites which attack the Sheep.

II.—In strengthening and adding lustre to the Wool.

III.—In Washing Sheep shortly before Clipping, leaving the Fleeces in a pure state.

IV.—In Dipping Lambs, even whilst suckling ewes, as they cannot be injured by the Material.

V.—In Dipping Rams at any Time of the Year, without danger of producing the excoriations which always follow the use of other Dips, especially in the Autumn Season.
